Four Die in SC County In Traffic Accidents

A 25-year-old Palo Alto woman, Mrs. Frances Mitchell of 224 Mariposa St., was killed on Middlefield Rd. just south of the city limits Sunday night when the car in which she was riding struck a power pole and overturned.

Her death, plus those of three others in Santa Clara County over the weekend brought the county's traffic accident death toll for the year to 97—10 above the same time last year.

The dead, in addition to Mrs. Mitchell, were:

Gerald Robbins, 21, Oakland, killed yesterday on Alviso Rd.

Marko Batinich, 60, San Jose, struck by a car in San Jose late Saturday.

The Rev. Joseph H. Sparks, San Jose, died in San Jose yesterday from injuries suffered in an auto-truck crash last Tuesday.

Mrs. Mitchell was a passenger in an auto driven by Harold Stalnacker, a U.S. Navy sailor stationed at Moffett Field. Other passengers were Samuel Bertolino and Lee Burmeister, both sailors also stationed at the field.

All three navy men were taken to the Moffett Field hospital. Mrs. Mitchell was taken to Palo Alto Hospital where she was pronounced dead on arrival.

None of the sailors was seriously hurt, navy officers at the field said this morning. The field's legal section is investigating the crash.

The fatal accident occurred at 9:30 last night, just north of Charleston Rd. on Middlefield, the State Highway Patrol reported. Stalnacker's car was the only vehicle on the road at that time, the patrol said.

School Explosion Injures Janitor

A furnace explosion in Burlingame High School Saturday night sent the janitor to Mills Memorial Hospital and rattled windows and dishes of residents within blocks of the school.

Attendants at the hospital said Monday the janitor—Leo Bretta, 44, of Millbrae Park—was "in satisfactory condition" but they would continue to treat him for second degree burns of the hands and face, shock and a large bruise on the side of his head.

Time of the explosion was 7:40 p.m. but its cause is still unexplained.

Burlingame Fire Dept. officials, who reached the scene immediately after the blast, said it is their theory the explosion was caused by Bretta's tossing a match into one of the two furnaces to see why it had not started burning on time.

They said both furnaces are turned on at the same time by one movement, that Bretta had apparently seen one furnace burning, had assumed the other was on, too, and left the scene momentarily. The other furnace, however, had not gone on for some reason but instead was filling the room with gas when Bretta returned and noticed the one furnace not burning, they said, he apparently tossed a lighted match into it to get it started. The blast followed immediately.

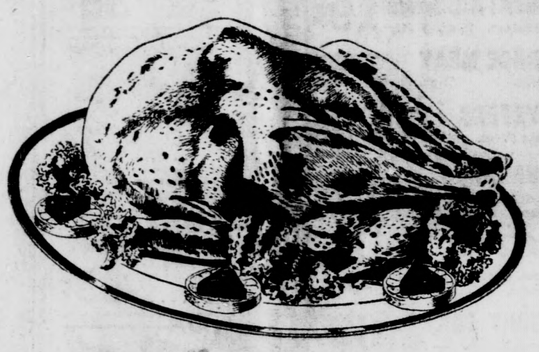
RC Man Jailed On Check Charge

Glen D. Webster, 32-year-old electrician, Speedway Motel, was arrested Saturday night by Belmont police on charges of passing bad checks, after police waited for Webster to visit his wife who was confined in a Mills Memorial Hospital maternity ward.

Webster was arrested on a complaint signed by E. O. Bondeson, owner of Bondy's restaurant in Belmont. Bondeson charged that Webster had posed as a United Air Lines pilot and passed a $50 bad check in the restaurant on Oct. 2 and a $25 check on Oct. 19.

Police took Webster to county jail where he is being held in lieu of $1000 cash bail or $2000 bond. He is to appear at a preliminary hearing tomorrow at 11 a.m. before Judge Gus Risso in Belmont.

Cooking a turkey?



It's as "easy as pie" with an AUTOMATIC RANGE

Here's how to get the bird ready...

Choose a plump turkey with a smooth, moist skin. Clean. Wash inside and out with warm water. Pat dry. Rub inside with salt...about ½ teaspoon to each pound of turkey. Stuff loosely with wild rice or your favorite dressing. Fill chest and cavity first. Draw neck skin over it and fasten with skewer. Then fill body cavity. Place long skewer across body opening and lace shut with strong cord. Use ends of cord to tie legs to tail. Rub skin with unsalted fat. Place turkey breast-side down on V-shaped rack in bright, low-sided pan. Do not cover. Basting is not necessary if you use cooking chart below. To prevent over-browning toward the end of roasting time, cover bird with cloth that has been dipped in melted fat.

...and here's how to cook the bird

Oven Weight	Oven Temperature	Approx. Time per lb.
8 to 10 lbs.	325 F.	20 to 25 min.

Voluntary Censorship Of Comic Books Asked By SM Supervisors

The San Mateo County Board of Supervisors, condemning comic books which specialize in depicting violent crimes, Tuesday called on all distributors to invoke a system of voluntary censorship.

Meanwhile, Asst. Dist. Atty. Louis B. Dematteis issued an invitation to various civic groups and officials to a meeting planned for Dec. 1 to pick a censorship board.

The censorship board, Dematteis explained, would act in an advisory capacity to police officials and distributors, and in effect "edit" the comic books. The meeting is to be held at 1:30 p.m. in the supervisors' chambers.

Dematteis said that representatives of the following organizations or offices will be asked to attend:

Parent Teacher Assns., United Societies of San Mateo County, ministerial associations, police departments, county superintendent of schools' office, county library, probation office and the district attorney's office.

At the request of the district attorney's office, the supervisors passed a resolution calling for the voluntary censorship. The county's legal department was unwilling to ask for an ordinance at this time outlawing the comic books, according to Dematteis.

"It seems advisable to await further clarification of the law before passage of an ordinance is considered," he stated. "We do feel, however, that every effort should be made to discourage the sale and distribution of such publications because of the harmful effect, particularly on the youth of our county."

He said that a restrictive ordinance has been passed in Los Angeles and others have been proposed elsewhere. However, a suit is contemplated to test the legality of the Los Angeles law. The United States Supreme Court, in addition, has declared illegal a New York law outlawing objectionable comic books.

"In the event that we are unable to obtain the voluntary cooperation of the interested parties," he stated, "it may be advisable to consider the passage of an ordinance at a later date."

The resolution passed by the supervisors outlined the following points:

1. The number and variety of comic books has increased, and that many feature crimes of force, violence and bloodshed.

2. These books often are placed for sale alongside of humorous and adventure magazines.

3. Children under 18 are susceptible and impressionable, and, often "stimulated and incited" by such publications to commit crimes.

Because of those, the board's resolution declared the distribution of objectionable comic books a "menace and a serious contribution to juvenile delinquency."

The resolution asked voluntary censorship of comic books which prominently display crimes of "arson, assault with a caustic chemical, assault with a deadly weapon, burglary, kidnapping, mayhem, murder, rape, robbery, theft, voluntary manslaughter, or gruesome scenes of bloodshed and mangled bodies."

Also it condemned scenes of "cruelty or unusual torture likely to incite sadism," or which contain "material which is offensively sexy, or carry advertisements of products which tend to contribute to juvenile delinquency, or tend to create disrespect for law and law enforcement officers."

Four Injured In Accidents Over County

Four persons were injured in two automobile accidents late Monday, two of them in a head-on collision which resulted in the arrest of one of the motorists on a charge of felony drunk driving.

Mrs. Agnes L. Miguel, 35, of El Granada, suffered a serious fracture of her left knee, bruises and a sprained ankle. She was taken to St. Luke's Hospital, San Francisco, after receiving treatment at the office of a Half Moon Bay physician.

Her son, Lawrence, 5, suffered a cut on his upper lip but did not require hospitalization.

After the accident the California Highway Patrol arrested Robert L. Baker, 36, a Santa Cruz unemployed carpenter. The officers reported that the accident occurred on Coast Hwy. at the Half Moon Bay Bridge and that Baker's car crashed headon into a station wagon driven by Mrs. Miguel.

Two other persons suffered minor injuries in a three-car pileup which temporarily tied up traffic on Bayshore Hwy. about 5 o'clock Monday afternoon.

The injured, Mrs. Louise L. Barber, 50, and Mrs. Leon Cany, 50, both of Fresno, were treated at Community Hospital for cuts and bruises.

The accident occurred at the San Carlos Airport turnoff when a car driven by Richard D. Collins, 21, of Star Route, Box 42, stopped. The other drivers were Mrs. Barber and Frank G. Gonzales, 37, San Francisco.

Three Boys Pass Eagle Scout Test

Three Boy Scouts from Troop 153, San Carlos, Monday night passed Eagle Scout tests before a board of review at the Boy Scout office here, Chet E. Wilson, scout executive for the southern division of the county, announced Tuesday.

Passing the tests were Donald Smith, Robert Weckerle and Lavis Mundell. Awards will be presented to them at a district rally Dec. 3 at McKinley School.

Kent Holmes of the same troop also will receive an Eagle Scout award at that time. Les Mundell is scoutmaster of the troop.

On the board of review were Stanley Marcus, chairman of advancement; Oscar Olson, district chairman, and Milton Gooding, neighborhood commissioner.

The Eagle award is the highest that can be bestowed upon a Boy Scout.

Numbers 11, 8 Stick In Mind; Woman Wins

BOWIE, Md. (AP)—A woman said the numbers she saw on a telephone pole seemed to stick in her mind.

They were "11" and "8."

So she played them in the daily double at Bowie racetrack yesterday and was one of 11 persons to hit the combination for $2942.80.

The winners were No. 11, Reighaway in the first race, which paid $35.80 for $2, and No. 8, St. Elmo Jr., in the second race, at $150.80 for $2.

The elderly woman explained her luck after admonishing reporters not to use her name "because my husband wouldn't like it."

Park Football Playing Brings Complaint

A complaint against the playing of touch football by youngsters at Stafford Park was filed without comment Monday night by Redwood City councilmen.

The complaint was from C. Kusel, 50 King St.

Council Still Split on Board Appointments

Indicating that there is still plenty of fireworks going on in caucus session, Redwood City councilmen Monday night carried five items on their agenda until their next session.

They failed to take any action on filling a personnel board vacancy, nor on petitions that a zoning permit granted S&W Fine Foods, Inc., be revoked.

At its last meeting the council was reported by Mayor W. M. Werder as split 3-3 between Russell J. Cooney and Howard J. Cahill. Three councilmen wanted Cooney, the San Mateo County personnel director, to fill the personnel board vacancy and three others wanted Cahill, a former San Francisco News employe to fill the job.

Since then, Cooney has written the council that he is not a candidate for the position and never was. Councilman Robert V. Spillers is backing the candidacy of Cahill, who at present is studying law at University of San Francisco and who lives at 937 15th Ave.

Between that meeting and Monday night's, councilmen had decided to interview more men for the position. Last night, however, when the item came up on the agenda they carried it over without comment.

At their last meeting they received four petitions from Manzanita St. residents complaining about "noise, lights, smoke and the piling of boxes at the S&W plant." They put the item on the agenda then for Monday night.

Mayor Werder then announced that the petitioners were unable to present their attorney last night and the matter was postponed until another meeting. The petitioners seek to have a zoning permit ravoked which permitted S&W to expand its operations.

Also carried on the agenda were:

A recommendation by City Mgr. E. A. Rolison on the city's share of the cost of improving railroad crossings.

A proposed annexation of property along Woodside Rd. This was postponed until a map of the area can be drawn.

The proposed construction of a building at Community Park to house park department trucks.

Coast Firebug On Prowl Again

The Coastside firebug who specializes in starting blazes in rats' nests was at work again Sunday.

The County Forest Service reported that a half dozen rats' nests were ignited by the firebug, Sunday apparently working on foot.

Five of the fires died before igniting surrounding grass and brush. The sixth, however, resulted in a blaze that kept two crews from Rockaway Beach busy all afternoon.

Deputy Fire Warden Earl Peterson Jr. reported that the fire, which covered a half acre of brush and trees, was about four miles south of Torello Canyon, near Moss Beach, where three weeks ago a series of similar fires was set. Only the lack of wind Sunday kept the fire from getting into the larger trees on the San Francisco Water Co. property.

Dr. Scott Opens Therapy Office

Dr. Walter S. Scott, P.T., has opened physio-therapy offices here in suite B, Lambert Bldg., 1070 El Camino Real.

Dr. Scott has been connected with the Haneman Hospital in Long Beach for the past 15 years. He is at present living in Cupertino and plans to move to Redwood City in the near future.

He is a graduate of the Seyl Institute of Chicago and took additional physio-therapy training in Orlando, Fla., before he came West to work at the Haneman Hospital.

FIREMEN GET 2 CALLS

Redwood City firemen answered two alarms Tuesday, extinguishing a rubbish fire on Hoover School grounds at 7:12 p.m. and a stove fire at the home of Henry Dombalian, 1764 Broadway, at 8:40 p.m.

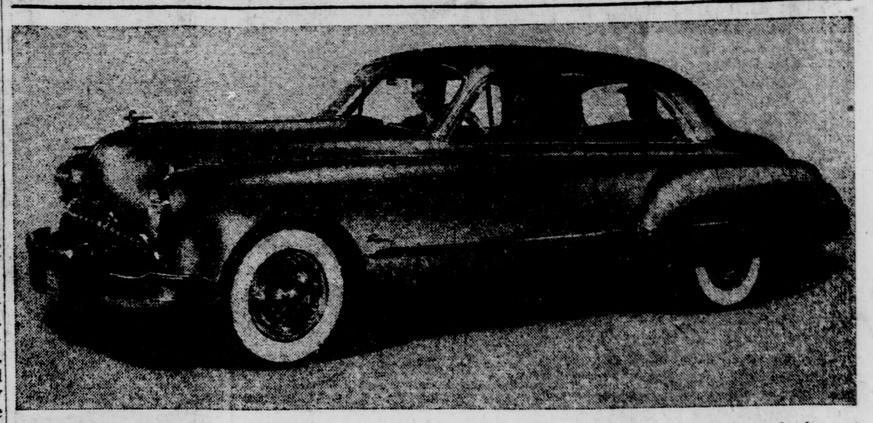
Buick Has New Lines for '49



BUICK'S completely re-styled 1949 Super and Roadmaster models feature lower, wider and roomier bodies that provide greater visibility through use of 22.8 per cent more glass. Highlighting the new post-war Buick styling are flowing, full-length fenders with functional chrome-embossed "venti-ports" for cooling the engine compartment, full-vision curved windshield and rear window, one-piece, wrap-around bumpers and spacious luggage compartment. Over-all length of Super and Roadmaster models is reduced three inches to facilitate parking and storage. Buick's Super and Roadmaster models present more than 100 mechanical improvements, including replaceable connecting rod bearings, self-adjusting hydraulic valve lifters, a new larger heater, and new door checks and hold-opens that provide easier opening and more positive hold-open of doors. Dynaflow Drive, Buick's unique "no-shift, clutchless" transmission, is standard equipment on Roadmaster models and optional on Super series cars. Public display of the new Buick models begins in dealer showrooms Nov. 26. The Super sedan is shown above.

Vet Term Insurance May Lapse in 1949

The "term" in National Service Life Insurance term policies is becoming increasingly important to veterans who entered World War II service early, according to Floyd D. Granger, veterans service officer.

These policies run for only eight years, Granger pointed out. This means that veterans who took out term policies in 1941 will find them expiring on the corresponding date next year.

Although the Veterans Administration is sending warning notices to holders of term policies two months before the expiration date, Granger urged veterans in San Mateo County not to wait for this notice, but to take action promptly to renew their policies or, better still, to convert them to one of the six permanent plans of NSLI.

If the veteran elects to renew his term policy for another five years, he must do so before it expires, Granger said. No grace period is allowed. He will pay a new premium rate, corresponding to his attained age.

Full information and assistance in applying for renewal or conversion of NSLI term policies may be obtained at the Veterans Service Office at the courthouse.

Credit Girl, 10, With Saving Home

Because she had a cold and couldn't go to school, 10-year-old Rosemarie Cohen was credited Monday with saving her home from destruction by fire.

Asst. Fire Warden Ernest Werder reported that defective wiring at noon Monday started a blaze in a tent-house 10 feet from Rosemarie's home at 222 Ferndale Way.

The first Rosemarie knew of the blaze was when she heard the popping of .22 caliber cartridges which her brothers kept in the tent house.

Werder said the flames enveloped the tent but firemen kept it from spreading to the two-story frame house.

Neither Rosemarie's father, Samuel Cohen, or her mother were home at the time, Werder declared.

SC Check Charge Leads to Arrest

A 40-year-old Jenner lumberman was in county jail Tuesday on charges of passing two bad checks totaling $1256.24 in San Carlos on Oct. 18 and 22.

Sherwood N. Wadsworth was arrested Monday by Petaluma police and turned over to San Carlos officers early Monday night. He was arrested on a complaint filed by Roy L. Summers of Manchester, Calif. Summers charged that Wadsworth gave him two bad checks in San Carlos on Oct. 18 and 22.

Wadsworth was held in county jail in lieu of $1000 cash bail or $2000 bond.

NMB Votes $3.37 Dividend

National Motor Bearing Co. reports consolidated net profit of $646,762, equal to $3.37 a share, for the first nine months of 1948. In the similar period last year earnings were $409,806 or $2.14 a share.

Lloyd A. Johnson, president, said the company's newly designed oil seal is being well received.

News of Commuters

BY JOE CABOOSE

It is legendary that newspaper publishers are among our smartest people. They are supposed to influence public opinion; and then, with their collective finger on the public pulse, tell us which way fickle John Q. Public is going to jump.

★ ★ ★

But we are beginning to wonder. We are willing to forgive them for their bum guesses on the recent national election when nearly everybody, including some of our brightest high school political science students, guessed wrong. We will even try to forget the three or four prior presidential elections when 75 to 90 per cent of our newspapers were wrong.

★ ★ ★

However, the publishers have made one mistake which we cannot forgive or forget. That is the 7-cent daily newspaper. This is the biggest blunder in the history of American journalism. Just when John Q. is questioning the value of the daily newspaper anyhow; and when the burden of proof is on the publisher that his paper does perform an essential public service, what does Mr. Publisher do? While he is still alibing for his bum guesses and the misinformation he gave you in a 5-cent paper, he ups the price to 7 cents.

★ ★ ★

In our book, that isn't very smart. Ask any commuter rushing for a train what he thinks of this change-fumbling procedure to buy a newspaper. You'll find many of them have switched to a closer reading of their Redwood City Tribune for national as well as local news, supplementing that with radio newscasts a. m. (while they shave and breakfast) and p.m. (on retiring.) Yours truly goes beyond this and packs his TIME or NEWSWEEK back and forth to read on the train.

★ ★ ★

We have bought but one 7-cent paper, and that was for a special reason. Call Bulletin executive tells us that street sales are off 10% since the price increase. We're surprised it isn't more. But even a 10% drop in circulation, if sustained, is enough to make advertisers ask questions. Some of the curse would be taken off the increase if the publishers could now persuade the government to mint a 7-cent coin. This would be useful in many ways. There are lots of former nickle items—candy bars, cigars, coffee, etc.—now ranging from 6 to 10 cents, that could be pegged at 7, if we had such a coin.

★ ★ ★

If the publishers are as hard up as they say (and we are not questioning that) they should have added a few cents to their line rate instead of breaking the nearly century-old tradition (in California) of a 5-cent paper. If they're going to stand on the 7-cent rate, they should begin editorializing at once for a 7-cent coin.

★ ★ ★

One of our sons had so much homework the other night we felt sorry for him, and helped him with his Latin and algebra. We learned later he got 50% on one and 45% on the other. So we were pleased Sunday when our daughter, who will soon take a teaching assignment, informed us that "modern methods do not encourage parental help with home-work, because subjects are not taught today as in yesteryear." Well, that let's us out. The Latin and algebra they taught in the seventh grade in Alabama wasn't so hot anyhow.

★ ★ ★

Frank Griffin will tell of his last summer's world travels at the next Commuters dinner meeting, scheduled for the Three Owls, Thursday, Nov. 18. Let's all turn out for a large evening of both entertainment and education. . . . Since feather-bedding has been outlawed in California, Swing Brakeman Jack Welsh had to go to work. Hence he called on Caboose to write his column for him. 'T aint very commuterish, but hope you don't mind.

Fraud Hearing Next Tuesday

Belmont Police Judge Gus Risso Tuesday set next Tuesday as the date for a preliminary hearing of fraud charges against Glenn D. Webster, 32-year-old electrician.

Webster, who listed his address as the Speedway Motel, was arrested Saturday by Belmont police after E. O. Bondeson, owner of Bondy's restaurant, Belmont, signed a complaint charging Webster with passing two bad checks totaling $75 in the restaurant. Bondeson charged that Webster had posed as a United Airlines pilot.

According to Police Chief O. W. Lindholm, both Burlingame and San Mateo police are investigating Webster in connection with bad check charges. Lindholm said today that Webster had an FBI record listing arrests both in the Midwest and on the West Coast.

Recount Underway in Superior Court Here In Daly City Council Election Protest

A recount of votes cast in the Daly City council election of Apr. 13 was underway today in superior court, Redwood City.

The recount was demanded by Edward J. Dennis, an incumbent councilman, defeated in his bid for reelection.

Dennis, in a suit filed last spring, stated that although he finished third in the announced results, he would have finished second if there had not been errors made "sufficient to change the result."

Dennis contended that he, and not Fred Beretta, should have been second in the totals, and that therefore he should have been declared elected to one of the two council seats open at the time.

More than 3000 votes were being recounted before visiting Superior Judge A. R. Runnells of San Benito County.

No result of the recount was expected until late today or tomorrow.

Five months ago, Superior Judge A. R. Cotton called off the recount on a technicality, but a subsequent supreme court ruling cleared up the technical difficulty and permitted the recount to be made.

Menlo Park School Board Votes Election Dec. 15 on $100,000 20-Unit Bond Issue

Menlo Park Elementary School District trustees will ask votes to approve a $100,000 bond issue for a 20-room Western District school at an election Dec. 15, Supt. Melville J. Homfeld announced today.

Homfeld said the school board was granted immediate possession of the 10-acre site on Santa Cruz Ave. between Elder St. and Olive St. on Monday in San Mateo County Superior Court, where a condemnation suit for the land is in progress.

At a special meeting Monday night the district trustees commissioned Arthur Janssen and William Daseking, architects, to prepare a master plan for the 20-room elementary school plant, Homfeld said.

The architects were also instructed to prepare preliminary drawings of one wing, including six classrooms and a kindergarten, and to make working drawings of three or more of the rooms, Homfeld said.

Final possession of the school site by the trustees marked the climax of a fight which proceeded through the Menlo Park Planning Commission, a period of negotation, and finally the court action under the right of eminent domain. The property was owned by the Menlo Investment Co., whose representatives contended that sale of the land for school use would deprive the company of valuable sources and that other land was available at lower cost.

The lot runs 500 feet north of Santa Cruz Ave. and has an 815-foot frontage on Santa Cruz. Present plans call for the facing of the school on Elder St.

Many Peninsulans Added To Stanford Research Staff

In the past five weeks 53 people have been added to the staff of Stanford Research Institute, it was announced today by Dr. J. E. Hobson, executive director.

One of the prominent scientists among the new personnel is Dr. Richard Pencharz, nationally-known cancer expert. During the war Dr. Pencharz did work on traumatic shock; he has published more than 40 articles on experimental physiology. As SRI's senior biologist, Dr. Pencharz, a resident of Kentfield, Calif., will do research in the life sciences field.

Another newcomer to SRIs staff is John W. Edgemond Jr. of Oakland, who is chairman of the Department of Applied Mechanics. Mr. Edgemond has 37 inventions to his credit in the fields of industrial mechanics, aircraft, automatic machinery, and motion picture equipment. He is the designer of a machine-gun turret which was installed on more than 20,000 B-24s during the war.

Of the new institute members, 11 are from Palo Alto, six from Menlo Park, four from Redwood City, and four are from San Francisco. The remainder have moved here from other cities throughout the Bay Area.

Residents of Palo Alto are Hugh D. Hefta, Mrs. Katherin Goebel, C. W. Weber, E. W. Case, Conrad F. Schadt, Robert O. Shreve, Miss Phyllis A. Moore, Paul M. Cook, Miss Margaret McKittrick, Guy B. Robertson and George P. Dillara.

Residents of Redwood City are Mrs. Mary K. Snyder, Donald A. Acton, Vernon E. Koch and Mrs. Evelyn T. Donaldson.

Residents of Menlo Park are Arthur G. Wilder, Carl W. Weber, Mrs. Barbara N. Stewart, William L. White, Jack J. Gordon and Paul M. Sturm.

Residents of San Francisco are Robert F. Moe, Mrs. Edith Coliver, William E. Scott and Roy E. Steinhoff.

The remainder include Ollie L. Fuhrmann, San Carlos; Mrs. Lucille Himmel, Mountain View; Frank T. Sakraida, Burlingame; Arthur F. Granucci, Atherton; Norman Haffly, La Honda; G. W. Pipkin, D. B. Myers, Mrs. Barbara Showler, William R. Walker, John E. Weinberg, Irvin C. Dumas and Dr. Richard D. Cadle of Los Altos; George K. Reeder, San Jose; Mrs. Lois Thomson, Richmond; N. K. Miller, Oakland; William Raborg Jr., Gardena; R. F. Simpson, S. Rubin and Mrs. Eileen Slavin of Pasadena; Eugene D. Hardison, Bertrand J. McCarthy, Rudolph J. Valenti, Mrs. Florence C. Jenson, Charles R. Dodson and Miss Helen J. Gardiner of Los Angeles; Mrs. Era M. Carruth, Long Beach, and R. Bakal Jr., Brooklyn, N. Y.

McCormick Widow Divorces Tait

SANTA MONICA (AP)—The former Mrs. Harold McCormick, widow of the wealthy onetime head of International Harvester Co., has filed suit for divorce from George Tait Jr. She married him a year after McCormick's death.

Her attorney, William V. O'Connor, filed the action yesterday. O'Connor said the separation was amicable and that she will seek custody of their son, Wilson, 4.

Mrs. Tait charged mental cruelty and incompatibility.

Mrs. Tait—then Ada Wilson—married McCormick in May, 1938. They lived quietly in Beverly Hills and upon his death in October, 1941, she inherited $3,000,000. Prior to their marriage, she had been his nurse.

It was McCormick's third marriage. His first was to Edith Rockefeller, daughter of John D. Rockefeller. They were divorced after their children were grown. Then he married Ganna Walska, Polish opera singer. They were divorced in 1931.

Aged Eel Near Death

STOCKHOLM (AP) — An 88-year old eel in the museum of Halsingborg, Sweden—claimed to be the oldest aquarium fish in the world—is failing rapidly. Caught by two boys in a creek outside the south Swedish city in 1863, the eel, named Putte ("Ducky" in English, "Pueppchen" in German) has outlived his captors. About a year ago Putte developed a tumor and is now getting weaker and weaker. Experts on fishes' diseases have not been able to help him.

First Peninsula Jewish Community Center Opens, Election of Officers Set for Dec. 5

The first Jewish Community Center on the Peninsula will become a reality in a former Catholic Convent when permanent officers and directors of the center are elected at a mass meeting at 600 Arguello St. on Sunday evening, Dec. 5, it was announced today by Harold Firstenberg, temporary general chairman.

Vacated recently by the Catholic religious order for newer quarters, the 70 year old historic site will be the scene of the first official acts of the new organization, which received its charter last week as a non-profit corporation from the secretary of state.

The meeting will climax 10 years of planning by civic leaders in communities from South San Francisco to Sunnyvale.

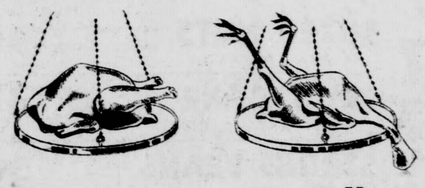
FRESH KILLED DRESSED and DRAWN FRYERS
PAN-READY—NO WASTE
Yet they save you money over New York Dressed Fryers
Here's new FRYER ARITHMETIC



2 lbs. 2 ozs. = 3 lbs.

Here's why one Fryer sells for 59c per pound and the other at 79c per pound, yet you save money by buying the one for 79c per pound.

A chicken that has head and feet on and entrails in and weighs 3 pounds with but the feathers removed, is known as a "New York Dressed" Frying Chicken. The same chicken when completely dressed and drawn weighs 2 pounds and 2 ounces, a loss of 14 ounces for the inedible parts. This is known as "Fresh Killed, Dressed and Drawn" Frying chicken and is pan-ready.

The rest is simple mathematics. The 3 pound New York Dressed Fryer at 59c per pound will cost you $1.77. The 2 pound 2 ounce Fresh Killed, Dressed and Drawn Fryer at 79c per pound costs you $1.68 . . . a saving of money plus these other conveniences:

NO FUSS • NO MUSS
NO WASTE • NO WORRY
FRESH KILLED DRESSED and DRAWN FRYERS LB. 79¢
